Some Work Already Done

Plans Made To Develop Lake McGregor Park

Plans have been made for further development this year of the Lake McGregor Memorial Park at the north dam.

Land has been cultivated for trees, which will be dug up and transplanted by individuals, and district residents are loaning irrigation equipment for watering of the trees.

A pier will be built for the convenience of boat owners, a well dug to provide drinking water, swings and playgrounds constructed, a cook house erected, and a new road built into the baseball grounds. Life-saving equipment, including a diving outfit, has been purchased.

Construction of a race track has been started and a stock car race is also planned. Most labor is being donated by local residents and money held by the old U.F.A. is going into the park project, with further assistance being given by local clubs. It is planned to employ a permanent caretaker.

Residents having outside toilets that are no longer needed and who would care to donate or sell them to the park are asked to advise the Advocate office.

The park will provide excellent fishing and boating facilities and will provide a greatly-needed recreational area for residents of the northern part of the county.

Officers of the Lake McGregor Memorial Park Association are E. G. Beckner, president; Con Peterson, vice-president; M. P. Schaub, secretary; J. M. Thomson, Sr., treasurer. Directors are William Shield, R. C. Umscheid and O. Ueland. All are Milo residents.

Granary and Chicks Lost in Blaze

Fire destroyed a 12x16 granary and 225 baby chicks on the farm of Bert Methel, north of Vulcan, early last Friday morning.

The fire was beyond control by the time it was discovered and efforts of Mr. and Mrs. Methel and neighbors who quickly gathered were confined to preventing the flames from spreading to nearby buildings.

The granary, being used as a brooder house, contained chick starter and feed as well as the baby chicks. Origin of the fire is undetermined, although it is thought the heat lamps being used may have been the primary cause. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

Pioneer Observes 90th Birthday

Total of $2,303 Collected For Red Cross Fund

The local officials of the Vulcan branch of the Canadian Red Cross report a total of $2,303.91 collected in the town and district during the 1955 drive for funds. This amount is just under the budget objective of $2,500, but is considered satisfactory in view of the unfavourable wheat marketing situation.

The funds contributed will help the Red Cross Society to carry on its many peacetime programs, including the care of crippled children and Blood Transfusion Service. Other services made possible by the financial support given the Red Cross include Swimming and Water Safety, Junior Red Cross, disaster services and the Women's Work Committee, which makes thousands of sewn and knitted garments for the needy.

D. S. Paris was chairman for the local campaign committee. Officials wish to thank Bud Haverty, who so ably assisted in organizing the campaign, and all canvassers for their time and effort, as well as all those who gave donations.

Edmonton Post For M. M. Bakken

Honouring Mrs. M. M. Bakken, who will be leaving soon with her husband and family to reside in Edmonton, friends gathered recently at the home of Mrs. Ed. Emelson. Mrs. Bakken was presented with a farewell gift on behalf of all those present and a delicious lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. P. Molynaux, Mrs. Norman Pettie and Mrs. Dick Anderson.

A group of friends gathered at the home of Cpl. Pat Molynaux Tuesday evening of last week to bid farewell to M. M. (Buck) Bakken, UGG agent here for several years, who is being transferred to Edmonton. A gift was presented to Mr. Bakken and lunch was enjoyed.

New Building for McLeod's

Building Permits Approved At Town Council Meeting

Among building permits approved by the Town Council at its April meeting was one to John Ness of Carmangay for a 24x70 cinder block building to be erected on Vulcan Street in Vulcan on the location between the billiard hall and Loxton's Shoe Repair. The new building will be leased to McLeod's Ltd., hardware and farmer's supply firm, who are planning to open a branch in Vulcan. The old frame building, which formerly housed the business premises of Chas. Ottewill and Geo. E. Hill, is being torn down, and construction of the new building will proceed as rapidly as possible. Les Johnson has been awarded the contract for the job.

Other applications for building permits which were approved are: Evangelical United Brethren Church 26x10 dwelling on Lots 2 and 3, Blk. 16, estimated cost $10,000.

Vulcan Flour Mill, 6x6x12 addition, value $200. Contractor, Oscar Johnson.

William Sorger, 16x22 cinder block garage, value $500. Contractor, Oscar Johnson.

Street Paving

Other Business
William Carruthers of High River was engaged as night constable.

First reading was given a new business tax by-law.
Approval of the Department of Municipal Affairs has been received regarding the appointment of Munn, Richards, Yeoman & Co. as auditors for the town.

Milo-Queenstown Lions Club Receives Charter

(By Anne Desharnais)

In a banquet hall beautifully decorated in colors of royal selection, amid fellowship that has never been received here in quite the same spirit, the Milo-Queenstown Lions Club pledged their services towards the world's largest club organization. Present for the occasion in their official capacity were: Lion Stu Adams, District Governor from Calgary; Lion Stan Scales, International Counsellor of Vulcan; Lion Bill Springthorpe, Deputy District Governor from Strathmore; Lion Wally McIntyre, Zone Chairman from Carmangay; Lion Bill Richardson, President of Vulcan Lions; and Lion Earl Helland, President of the newly organized Lomond Club.

Evan Bechman gave the invocation. Lion Bob Bertrand introduced Lion Bill Richardson as toastmaster for the evening. The greeting of welcome was presented by Lion Charlie Carson, followed by the civic greeting given by Mayor J. M. Thomson, Sr.

There were guests present in recognition of their clubs from Calgary, Vulcan, Strathmore, Carmangay, and Lomond. Lion Tom Clarke proposed the toast to the ladies, saying that had they thought this club was organized in a chance to get away from the female element, they were tonight to show their appreciation to the ladies. Violet Carson thanked Lion Tom, also the Lions for this lovely banquet, and for the beautiful corsages each lady was presented with, and wished the president and members success in their future endeavours.

In the absence of International Organizer, Lion Sam Mitchell, Lion Stan Scales gave the charge to the charter officers, the charge to the members and then distributed the certificates to the members. He stressed the point of responsibility of members of their officers, to the fact that they must give all the support and co-operation possible, if they wish this club to succeed and carry on its good work.

One of the highlights of the program was during the presentation when Lion A. Saxby of Vulcan took pictures. The Milo-Queenstown Club can claim an honor, we don't think any other club can compete with, namely a father and four sons, all charter members of the same club. This group includes father Clarence Umscheid and sons Bob, Jim, John and Larry. Mother Umscheid also took a box this evening.

The Club charter was then presented by Lion Stu Adams, of Calgary, quote: "I am doubly proud in presenting this charter to you this evening. I congratulate the Vulcan Club for the wonderful job they have done in organizing this new club. I also thank the charter members for organizing this new club. I congratulate Lion Mel Schaub for the wonderful job he has done towards this program and the club. I am very proud to present my first charter as District Governor to President Charlie."

On accepting the charter Lion Charlie Carson replied that in accepting this charter he pictured it as a symbol of Milo-Queenstown Lionism, and that the club hoped to make their own community a better place to live in. He expressed his thanks to all those who were responsible in making this evening such a success.

On behalf of the Vulcan Club who were sponsors of this club Lion Bill Richardson presented the Gong and Gavel to Lion Mel Schaub. The Gong was suitably inscribed and symbolic with this presentation a link of continual friendship and good fellowship between the two clubs was formed. A telegram of good wishes from Lions International of Chicago was read.

Places were set for 180 people at the banquet. The wives of the

Other Teams Drop Out

Four Strong Entries In F.-W. Baseball League

Some highly competitive baseball will be seen this season in the Foothills-Wheatbelt Baseball League, according to reports. Only four teams are entered in the league this year and all will depend heavily on imports.

Franchises will be held by the defending-champion Granum White Sox, Vulcan Elks (who were runner-up), Lethbridge Miners and Picture Butte Indians.

Claresholm, Stavely, Nanton, Champion and Carmangay have had difficulty lining up strong contenders and have not entered the league this year. Picture Butte is a new entry in the league and, according to reports, will have four or five California imports.

Vulcan has also lined up an impressive array of U.S. college talent to provide the best possible entertainment for the fans. Granum will add one or two new faces to their import-studded championship club of last year while the Miners, a combination of the Cubs and Miners from the city, will stick mostly to homebrew talent.

The league will open June 1st, with two games. All Sunday games will be doubleheaders and Wednesday games, singles. All four teams are in the playoffs, a best-of-five affair both in the semi-finals and finals.

Hannah Matlock Heads Ladies Curling Club

Final event of the Vulcan ladies' curling club for the season was the annual meeting, held recently in the club room of the curling rink, when Hannah Matlock's vice-president teams entertained Thelma Haverty's president teams, winners of the annual president vs. vice-president draw.

The program consisted of a number of contests and a sing-song, followed by a general meeting.

Secretary Bea Richardson reported a favorable financial statement. Election of officers resulted as follows: Hannah Matlock, president; Olga Miller, secretary-treasurer; Selma Manning, first vice-president; Mabel Resa, draw convener. A representative from the afternoon curling members will be appointed in the fall.

The "losers" served a delicious lunch at the close of the meeting.

Canadian taxes on the average automobile amount to $400 to $600.

Weather Cuts Attendance

Choral Society's "Mikado" Excellent Entertainment

Despite continued bad weather, which has considerably cut down attendance, performances of Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta "The Mikado" by the Vulcan Choral Society have been successful and have met with enthusiastic reception.

An afternoon performance for the school children and two evening performances were given in Vulcan last week, and this week the operetta has been presented in Milo and Nanton.

The comic opera is directed by John Clarke and featured roles are taken by Harold Ulmer, Edward Roebuck, Arthur Jones, Bruce Gonyea, Einar Kumlin, Marion Schrag, Frances Clarke, Elsie Thompson, Hazel Cameron, Cecil Warden and David Saxby.

Piano accompaniment is by Mrs. Willa Almond and members of the chorus are Eugene Kush, Robert Collier, Darrel Maisy, Brian Todd, Charles Ottewill, Harold Hansen, Helen Clark, Olla McLeod, Charlotte Nolan, Gladys Buehler, Mae Todd, Joyce Marsellus, Jeanette Hansen, Edna Farr, Louise Glachetta, Verda Gibb, Marion MacKay and Eva McIntosh.

Costumes were excellent and obtained from Malabar's Theatrical Suppliers of Winnipeg. Lighting was in charge of William Giles, make-up in charge of Dr. George Gibb, scenery in charge of Connie McFarland. Clayton MacMillan was stage carpenter and business managers were Andy Schrag and Earl Erickson.

Charles Fitzpatrick Taken By Death

Funeral services were held at the Vulcan United Church on Monday afternoon for John Charles Fitzpatrick, well known resident of the district, who died in hospital April 22 following a short illness. He was 61 years of age.

Charles Fitzpatrick first came to Vulcan in 1915 and started farming in the Reid Hill district. He was born in St. Paul, Minn., and lived at Barnswell, Minn. before moving to Alberta. He later lived at Portland, Oregon, for several years, returning to Alberta to live at Vulcan and Calgary.

He was a member of the Vulcan Elks Lodge and of the Vulcan Branch Canadian Legion and his sudden passing came as a shock to his many friends.

He is survived by one son, Robert at Calgary, and two brothers, Arthur and Roy, of Vulcan.

Services were conducted by Rev. John S. Clarke and burial was made in the Vulcan cemetery. Pallbearers, all old friends, were Tom Matthews, Delmar Shearer, Weldon Greenlee, Walter McDermot, Dewey Greenlee and Ross Walker.

Among the many friends from out of town who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. T. Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sole, and Henry and Peter Dorch, all of Calgary; Mrs. Ed. Clarke and Albert of Kailispell, Mont.; Jay Bowie of Royalties; Mr. and Mrs. D. Shearer of Barons; Mrs. John Wilson and Mrs. Loree of Parkland; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Chaffee of High River; Mr. and Mrs. G. Caspell of Nanton; and Mrs. Calvin Snow of Calgary.

Gorbous Rated One Of Top Rookies

Glen Gorbous, Vulcan ball-player who is now an outfielder with the major league Cincinnati Reds, has been receiving good press notices and is rated as one of the three best major league rookies this year.

Gorbous, member of various Brooklyn Dodger farm teams the past few seasons, collected six hits in his first ten times at bat, bating in three doubles and driving in three runs.

The 24-year-old ball-player has been moved from the bench to a regular outfield spot for the Reds last few games.

Young Couple Will Live At Vulcan

A quiet afternoon wedding was solemnized at the Crescent Heights United Church manse in Calgary, at 5.30 o'clock, when Rev. Ashford united in marriage Joan Patricia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Forbes of Naswaak Bridge, N.B., and Roy H. Allen of Vulcan, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Allen.

Attending the young couple as matron of honor and best man were Mrs. Munda Peck and Don Larkins.

The bride wore an afternoon gown of blue lace and nylon, with which she wore a white hat and accessories. Her arm bouquet was of pink roses and carnations.

The matron of honor was attired in a blue gown with a pink hat and white accessories. She wore a corsage of pink roses.

Following the ceremony a reception for members of the family and a few close friends was held at Gene's La Villa.

After a short honeymoon at Banff the bride and groom will make their home in Vulcan.

Attending the wedding from Vulcan were Miss LaRue Neville, Ralph Buehler, Don Larkins and Allan Walker. Also present were Miss Helen Nicol and Miss Maxine Rittland, former Vulcan girls.

Jubilee Grant

The County Council recently decided that the Jubilee Grant which will be made available to the County by the Provincial government on a population basis would be distributed among the various communities in the County on the same basis. The County grant will be split among the village councils, the one town council and an organization qualified to administer the grant in the hamlets of the County.

It will be entirely up to the villages and town councils and to the hamlet organization to decide how these grants will be spent, but one interested reader has made a suggestion that is worthy of consideration.

One of the main themes of the observance this year of Alberta's Golden Jubilee is the honoring of the pioneers of the province — those men and women who pioneered this land and spent their lives in building up and improving their farms, communities and province. What better use could these small money grants be put to, says our reader, than to be spent in improving the cemeteries where so many of these same pioneers are buried. In most small communities the cemeteries are almost entirely neglected and even a small amount of money spent in improvement and upkeep would considerably improve their appearance.

Such action would not only honor the dead but would benefit the entire community.

This suggestion is submitted for the consideration of those who must decide how the hamlet, village and town grants from the County will be spent.

Success In Advertising

Advertising gospel belongs on any editorial page. Here is a chapter the quoted verses of which are from a new bulletin to customers issued by the Superior Feed Mills of Oklahoma City.

"In the depths of the depression of 1932, we began advertising more aggressively when most everyone else was crawling into a shell. We were spending around $40 per day advertising and thought this was a tremendous expenditure.

"We wondered if we could ever make it.

"Today, Superior Mills spends approximately $1,000.00 per working day for advertising and we are increasing our advertising budget regularly.

"Yet, when this is broken down into the cost per sack of feed that is sold by Superior, the amount per bag is infinitesimal.

"Here is a case where advertising helps us to sell feed to the consumer cheaper. It is a case where advertising saves cost rather than increases cost because as we advertise and increase our volume, we reduce our cost of producing a bag of feed and this saving is passed on to the consumer.

"Don't let any one kid you about the public paying for advertising. If advertising is properly handled and is effective, it will save the consumer money. This is a true story and you can well afford to adopt it to your business in proportion to your operation and volume."

Of Many Things

Union Leaders

The last time I wrote a column about union leaders, I found myself in the position of defending the high-pay they get. Quite a few working men wrote to me to say that I was away off base. They said that the union leaders were now getting too big for their britches. That they were smoking cigars and driving cadillacs and had no real interest in the worker's pay envelope. Their main desire was to get the check-off so that their own salary and the union funds would pile up.

I replied that I felt a good union leader should be well paid, and that the workers would be foolish not to reward them with high salaries. Now I am beginning to wonder if the workers were right and I was wrong. Some very foolish things have been happening lately. Some very important labor leaders are now saying that they intend to go all out for a guaranteed annual wage for every union member employed. They are going to insist that employees guarantee a 52-week pay cheque, work or no work. And the ridiculous reason they give for this is that it would be a great help to all of us because then the laborers would have the money to buy from the rest of us.

Well, now, that's all very well for the laborers — but what about "the rest of us"? Who is going to guarantee a writer an annual wage? Or a farmer? Or a hired hand on the farm?

It seems to me it's time some of these labor leaders went out on a farm for a few weeks. Let them rediscover the elemental facts of life. Nobody can guarantee weather conditions. Nobody can guarantee a crop.

If there are going to be any guaranteed annual wages in Canada, let those guarantees go not to our union workers, turning out automobiles but to our farm workers who produce the very raw materials of living.

Surely we have all contributed enough to unemployment insurance to satisfy labor. I have never heard of a farmer collecting unemployment insurance payments — but every farmer helps to pay for them in every manufactured item that he buys.

I don't think very many union workers will be honestly in favor of a guaranteed annual wage. What the union leader is supposed to secure for the workers is more pay in the pay envelope — not some nebulous future guarantee that is likely to cut down on employment rather than to increase it.

Surely union leaders are going to realize, before it is too late, that they have gone altogether too far in their demands. Instead of guaranteed annual wages they are going to talk themselves into guaranteed unemployment. The men and women in this country who are not members of labor unions are getting fed up, and any sympathy that the unions used to get from the general public is rapidly waning. And the acts of a few union leaders like Walter Reuther reflect on all the others.

Yes, my wages DO look nice and low these days, especially if you think of all the jobs I do every month. What other servant works for 3 cents an hour? You might think of that the next time someone comes around yelling about "cheaper electricity." How much "cheaper" can you get? Just remember that any dreamer's scheme for "cheaper" ELECTRICITY has got a hook in it some place.

"Want some help with your homework, Dad?"

It's a good thing young Ted is only joking.

If his Dad took him up on that offer, Ted would soon find himself floundering in a sea of facts about family income management, succession duties, taxes, wills, trusts, business insurance and other related subjects!

You see, Ted's father is a typical life underwriter — a man who has not only been trained for his job, but keeps up-to-date by constant study. For the uses of life insurance are more extensive today than they used to be. And the men who represent companies in this business now advise you with increased skill.

Doing this calls for more than study. It takes real understanding of people's needs. And since each family's needs are different, the company representative offers valuable guidance in making plans to fit these needs — individually.

All in all, the life insurance man you deal with today is a very good man to know. And his progress is another reflection of the many ways in which the life insurance business has developed with the times to meet your changing needs!

WHY YOU SHOULD TREAT SEED GRAIN WITH "CERESAN" SEED DISINFECTANT

Each spring seed and soil-borne diseases, in the form of root-rot, smuts and seedling blights, reduce the yield of the crop you plant. The best and simplest way to protect the seed you plant and ensure maximum yields is to treat your seed grain before planting with "Ceresan" seed disinfectant. "Ceresan" prevents smut in wheat, oats, flax, and covered smut in barley. "Ceresan" protects seed and seedlings from root rot, seedling blights and decay.

"CERESAN" IS A SUPERIOR SEED DISINFECTANT BECAUSE IT PROTECTS SEED IN TWO WAYS:

ON SEED—VAPOUR ACTION

IN SOIL—PROTECTIVE FILM

On application, "Ceresan" gives off a highly effective mercury vapour which destroys fungi and bacteria on the surface of the seed and penetrates into cracks and crevices in the seed to give maximum disinfection. This volatile vapour action, in addition to direct contact, enables "Ceresan" to do a superior seed disinfecting job.

"Ceresan" forms a protective film which protects the seed after planting from the soil-borne fungi which cause seed decay, root-rot and seedling blight. This protection means higher germination and vigorous emergence that results in thicker, stronger stands which produce higher yields.

HOW TO TREAT SEED WITH "CERESAN" SEED DISINFECTANTS

HOME TREATMENT

You can apply "Ceresan" by a hand method or many users prefer to apply it dry in a dust-type automatic treater. If you have a slurry treater, "Ceresan" M2X is especially formulated for simple slurry treating. "Ceresan" is available at your local farm supply store.

COMMERCIAL TREATING

In many localities there is a commercial seed treater who can treat your seed grain. Simply ask him to treat your seed with "Ceresan" M2X or Du Pont Liquid 244 seed disinfectant. He can give you thorough seed protection for a very small cost per bushel.

Alkali A Common Problem

All soils are formed from weathered rock material by the action of frost, precipitation, animals, insects and bacteria. Alkali salts come originally from this rock material. In this area a large part of the soil was formed from stratified rocks such as shales. This material contains various salts because it was originally formed in salt water. These soluble salts tend to accumulate wherever rainfall is not sufficient to carry them off. Alkali soil usually occurs where rainfall is less than 20 inches. Porous soils like sands and sandy loams are less likely to contain toxic amounts of alkali than the finer textured soils containing clay.

There are three kinds of alkali, brown, black, and white. Brown alkali consists chiefly of nitrates. Black alkali consists of carbonate and bi-carbonate of sodium. White alkali is the one we are chiefly concerned with and consists of sodium sulfate, sodium chloride, magnesium sulfate, magnesium chloride and similar salts of calcium. Black alkali is the most toxic. It is toxic to plant growth. It corrodes plant roots. White alkali interferes with the process of osmosis, which is the method a plants roots take in water from the soil. Why have we seen such an increase in alkali during recent years? Since we have received above normal rainfall for at least ten years this is to be expected on our heavier soils. Our soils contain considerable quantities of alkali salts mainly sodium sulfate, magnesium sulfate, and calcium sulfate due to the nature of the rocks from which it was formed.

Whenever we have movement of water through these soils, some of these soluble salts also move, and accumulate where the excess moisture accumulates. As mentioned previously these salts are usually found in greatest concentration at the depth where the annual rainfall percolates. When an excessive amount of rainfall occurs the moisture moves upwards carrying the dissolved salts with it, and when the moisture evaporates from the surface of the soil the salts are left behind to accumulate.

Now that we understand what alkali is and how it is formed are there any practical remedies that can be offered? I would say at the beginning that this problem did not arise in one year and it is doubtful if any quick solution will be found. However, there are measures that can be taken to alleviate the situation in many cases.

1. First, natural drainage should be utilized wherever possible.

2. It is sometimes possible to produce crops on soils having a fairly high concentration of alkali by choosing crops with alkali tolerance, such as tall wheat grass, slender wheat grass and sweet clover. Barley is the most alkali tolerant cereal crop.

3. Deep plowing just before seeding, turns down the alkali on the surface, and enables the young plants to get established. Provision of a mulch keeps evaporation from the soil surface to a minimum, thus checking the rise of alkali until the crop shades the ground.

4. Farming across the slope, commonly called contour farming should help by keeping moisture up on the slopes, and thus not allowing alkali salts to accumulate in low places. Straightening-out watercourses and seeding them to grass will also assist in alleviating this problem in some instances.

Fire Prevention Will Save Lives

Half of all Canadians killed in fires each year are children under 15 years of age, according to the All Canada Insurance Federation.

Officials of the Federation, which represents more than 200 fire, automobile and casualty insurance companies, said the two leading causes of child deaths were lack of knowledge regarding what to do when fire breaks out and leaving children alone in the house.

They recommend the following precautions:

- (1) Never leave children alone for long periods of time.
- (2) Know the location of the nearest fire-alarm box, and how to operate it.
- (3) The telephone number of the local fire department should be kept near the telephone.
- (4) Make sure baby sitters are mature, responsible people; always leave complete instructions on what to do if fire breaks out.
- (5) Make sure there is always an exit for use in case of fire that is not blocked by furniture or other obstructions.
- (6) All windows and doors, except fire exits, should be tightly closed at first sign of fire or smoke.

(7) Keep at least one fire extinguisher on hand at all times, and know how to use it. (8) Never delay in turning in a fire alarm: the first few minutes count most.

Kirkcaldy Woman Imports Samoyed From California

(By Kirkcaldy Correspondent)

Mrs. Henry Todd of Kirkcaldy is the new owner of a Samoyed dog, shipped here by plane from California by Lawrence Soper, who has bred and trained this breed for a number of years.

Mrs. Todd's dog, named "Be-Yata of Encino," is pictured below and is a champion Samoyed. Of a gentle, friendly disposition, Be-Yata is two years old, 22 inches in height and weighs 72 lbs.

Written records show that the Samoyed was first domesticated about 4000 years ago by the Samoyedes, a nomadic tribe from Asia Minor who eventually settled in North Central Siberia centuries ago. Present-day Samoyed dogs are "true to breed," having no common ancestry with another breed. Samoyeds were used as sled dogs by the famous explorer Nansen on his expedition to the North Pole and by Admiral Byrd on his South Pole exploration, and both highly praised the loyalty and courage of the breed.

The Samoyed is a double-coated dog. The undercoat is a very fine and profuse and over this he grows a coarser, longer "guard coat." When in proper coat the Samoyed is practically rain-proof. The thick, heavy undercoat acts as insulation against both heat and cold and the "Sammy's" built-in air-conditioning system allows him to adjust easily to any climate. The Samoyed is very fastidious and makes an excellent house pet. Owners of these dogs credit them with possessing a well-developed sense of humour and an almost human desire to please.

The Samoyed is snow-white in color. Five or seven are generally used as a sled team and dog-sledding is becoming a popular sport in California with Samoyed owners.

Continue Juvenile Safety Campaign

The Juvenile "Safety" program actively sponsored throughout Canada by the Canadian Pacific Railway during the spring seasons of 1953 and 1954, achieved such remarkable results in reduction of accidents involving juveniles trespassing on railway property that the Canadian Pacific efforts toward this cause were recognized in an award from the National Safety Council for its public safety activities.

While "Safety" in the Company organization and in the providing of "Safe" transportation of the nation's peoples and goods has long been of prime importance with the "Pacific" the matters of carrying Railway Safety education to the public and to juveniles in particular is a relatively new departure and that these efforts should receive such signal recognition in only two years reflects the whole hearted efforts and interest of the railway in the "Safety" of our junior citizens.

This award, in the form of a plaque, will be displayed in Calgary, Edmonton, Medicine Hat and Lethbridge, on the Alberta District of the Canadian Pacific during this spring. The Alberta District has seen no serious accidents involving juveniles since the inception of its Juvenile Safety Program in 1953. The railway does not intend to rest on its laurels, however, and the 1955 program of Juvenile Safety training is going forward through newspaper articles, radio programs, and lectures and suitable "Safety" films delivered in selected school districts by members of the Investigation Department.

That "Safety" training at the school level does pay has been proven and it is hoped that the active cooperation of parents in continuing such training in the home, in conjunction with these programs, will be continued and ever brighten new horizons of happiness in this active nation.

Nova Scotia has the highest tides in the world, with the extreme range during July and August running from 46 to 90 feet.

Some time still remains to improve the seed stocks further. If weed seeds, chaff or dirt are present, the seed stocks should be cleaned. If the presence of disease is known or suspected in the seed lots, the seed should be treated. A number of good seed treating compounds are available. For general purpose treatment the best chemicals are the organic mercury compounds. They effectively control the surface-borne smuts such as bunt of wheat, covered smut of barley and the oat smuts. They also give some measure of protection to the germinating seed from disease-producing organisms in the soil. In addition to the organic mercury chemicals it is now possible to buy non-mercuric compounds which are specifically designed for the control of wheat bunt alone. These are not effective on oats or barley. For the farmers who desire crop protection from wireworms there are dual purpose seed treatments which are effective against both wireworms and smuts. Formaldehyde is no longer recommended as a seed treatment.

A few cautionary points should be stressed. Treat your wheat and flax at least 24 hours before seedling time, and your oats and barley at least a week ahead of seedling. Seed may be safely treated several weeks in advance of seedling provided it is dry and is stored thereafter in a dry place. In applying seed treatments follow the recommendations placed on the container by the manufacturer. Avoid over-dosage of the seed, and take proper precautions to protect yourself. Most of the seed treatments, especially the mercuries, are poisonous to man and livestock.

Sow Good Seed

(By M. N. Grant, Cerealist)

What is good seed? Good seed should be pure as to variety, high in germinating ability, free of disease, weed seeds, dirt and chaff. At this time of the year we must assume that grain farmers have completed most of their seed arrangements for 1955. The varieties have been chosen which will best suit the needs of the particular farm, and seed has been set aside from a previous crop or new seed has been purchased. A germination test has been carried out by the farmer himself, or he has availed himself of this service through a government seed testing laboratory or one of the commercial grain
